

A Special message from the

NORTH POLE

A large, empty rectangular box with a white background, intended for writing a message. The box is framed by a decorative border consisting of a green line on the inside and a plaid pattern of red, green, and brown squares on the outside.